Utah county, including all the civil, military and ecclesiastical authorities of Springville, for the killing of the Parishes and Forbes. An amusing incident occurred in Springville during the session of court, that will show the state of affairs and illustrate how deceitful are appearances. An old resident, who was called an apostate and had undergone some persecution at the hands of the police, rushed over to Provo and reported to the marshal that a foul murder had been committed in Rock canyon. He explained, in his excitement, that early that morning he had seen Edward Hall, Jos. Bartholomew and Zepheniah Warren, the two former with ropes, knives and axes, and the latter with a chain around his neck, going up Rock canyon. In about two hours, he said, Hall and Bartholomew had returned without Warren, who, he alleged had been murdered. Some officers were dispatched to Springville to investigate the mystery. They visited
